What Are Cookies

As is typical with most professional websites, TradeFX uses cookies small files that are downloaded to your device to enhance your browsing experience. This page explains the types of information cookies collect, how we use them, and why we may occasionally need to store these cookies. Additionally, we will explain how you can manage or prevent cookies from being stored; however, please note that doing so may affect or disrupt certain functionalities of the website.

How We Use Cookies

At TradeFX, we utilize cookies for various purposes outlined below. Unfortunately, in most cases, there are no industry-standard methods to disable cookies without impacting the functionality and features they provide on our website. To ensure an optimal experience, we recommend keeping all cookies enabled unless you are certain you do not need them, as they may support essential services you rely on.

Disabling Cookies

You can manage cookie settings by adjusting your browser preferences (refer to your browser's Help section for guidance). However, please note that disabling cookies may impact the functionality of TradeFX and other websites you visit. Certain features and functionalities of our platform may become unavailable if cookies are disabled. To ensure a seamless experience, we recommend keeping cookies enabled. This Cookies Policy was crafted using the Cookies Policy Generator.

The Cookies We Set

- Account related cookies

When you create an account with TradeFX, we use cookies to manage the signup process and overall administration. These cookies are typically deleted when you log out, but in some cases, they may remain to remember your site preferences even after you've logged out.

- Login related cookies

At TradeFX, we use cookies to remember when you're logged in, so you don't have to log in every time you visit a new page. These cookies are typically cleared or removed when you log out, ensuring that restricted features and areas are only accessible when you're logged in.

- Email newsletters related cookies

This website provides newsletter and email subscription services. Cookies may be used to remember if you are already registered and to display specific notifications relevant only to subscribed or unsubscribed users on TradeFX.

- Forms related cookies

When you submit data through forms, such as those on contact pages or comment sections, TradeFX may set cookies to remember your user details for future correspondence.

- Site preferences cookies

To enhance your experience on TradeFX, we offer the ability to customize your preferences for how the site operates when you use it. To remember your preferences, we use cookies that store this information, allowing us to retrieve it whenever you interact with a page that is influenced by your settings.

Third Party Cookies

In certain cases, we also use cookies provided by trusted third parties. The following section outlines the third-party cookies you may encounter while using TradeFX.

- This website uses Google Analytics, one of the most popular and reliable analytics tools on the web, to help us understand how you interact with TradeFX and identify areas for improving your experience. These cookies may track information such as your time spent on the site and the pages you visit, enabling us to create more engaging content for you.

For more information on Google Analytics cookies, see the official Google Analytics page.

- TradeFX uses third-party analytics to track and measure site usage, allowing us to create engaging content. These cookies track metrics such as the time spent on the site and the pages you visit, helping us improve your experience and enhance the site's functionality.
  - Occasionally, we test new features and make minor adjustments to how the site is delivered. During these tests, cookies may be used to ensure you have a consistent experience on TradeFX and to help us understand which optimizations are most appreciated by our users.
  - At TradeFX, understanding visitor behavior is essential for optimizing our sales process. We track data using cookies to measure how many site visitors make a purchase. This helps us make accurate business predictions, monitor advertising efforts, and control product costs to offer the best possible prices for our customers.
  - At TradeFX, we use advertisements to help offset the costs of operating our website and to fund future development. The behavioral advertising cookies employed on our site are designed to deliver the most relevant ads by anonymously tracking your interests, ensuring that we present content and offers that may be of interest to you.
  - Several partners advertise on behalf of TradeFX, and affiliate tracking cookies help us track if our customers have arrived at our site through one of our partner websites. This allows us to credit them accordingly and, where applicable, enables our affiliate partners to offer any bonuses for purchases made through their referral.
  - We also use social media buttons and plugins on TradeFX that enable you to connect with your social network in various ways. To make these features work, social media sites such as [list the social networks you have integrated] may set cookies through our site. These cookies may be used to enhance your profile on their platform or contribute to the data they collect for purposes outlined in their individual privacy policies.

More Information

We hope this explanation has clarified things for you. As mentioned earlier, if you're unsure whether you need certain cookies, it's generally safer to keep them enabled, as they may interact with features you use on TradeFX.

If you need more information, feel free to reach out to us through one of our preferred contact methods at TradeFX.
